

For Scholars and Plain People.

President McKinley says. "I can commend Ridpath's History of the World to the scholar as well as to the plain people generally."

What more would you have?

For the scholar it is reliable and accurate, convenient for reference, sound for study.

For the plain people it is clear and interesting. Open it at random, you will read page after page. Or, if you'll begin at page 1 and read the 9 volumes through, you'll know more about this old world than the average college graduate knows.

A new volume, just added, brings the history down to this very year, including all the great triumphs of peace and war during these past few years. The first volume begins with earliest times. In between is the complete story of the whole world.

If you buy this greatest of histories for your boy or girl you will surely end by reading it yourself.

If you purchase it for yourself you'll catch your children reading it.

Fortunately, the volumes are as substantially made as they are delightfully written.

A Great Book Bargain.

Over 50,000 sets of Ridpath's Great History of the World have been sold at prices just about double the Wanamaker History Club price.

It is selling by subscription to-day at double our price.

By taking an entire edition, we bring the books direct from publisher to reader, and save you one-half WHILE THE EDITION LASTS.

Our edition is identical in all respects with the regular subscription edition; the saving comes about by manufacturing on a large scale and by cutting out all middlemen's profits.

The half price is only half the story—here is the other half. By joining the Club and paying $1 membership fee, you may have the entire set sent you at once and pay for it in $2 monthly payments.

A magnificent Christmas Present, and an easy way of paying for it.

If you want a set held for Christmas delivery, order at once. It's no trouble for us, and may save you from disappointment. The binders can only deliver us books about so fast, and the Christmas rush is beginning already.
